Step Taken Yesterday That Will Likely Bring Things to a Feens-Newspaper Men Cannot Print Their Papers on Sunday—Answering Before "Squire Philips To-Duy for the Dese-cration of the Sabbath—The Law and Order Men Repudiate the Bogus Pro-ceedings—Tobacconists, Saloonists and the Wheeling and Belmount Bridge Company Included.

Several weeks ago a movement was intiated in this city by the Protestant clergy and laymen, having for its object the draft ing of an ordinance that-would harmonize with the State statute and compel an observance of the Sabbath in our midst that we did not now have, and could not inluce without great trouble and expense, whereas the ordinance in contemplation by them would compass all that they desired and aimed at. This movement was anticipitated in very generally by our citizens outside of the clergymen, and a very general interest awakened in the subject Several meetings were held, and a com nittee composed of several lawyers and business men appointed to prepare the ordinance, or at least anticipate ures relating to its preparation. This committee will meet again Monday night to report progress to the gentlemen hav ing the whole affair in charge. The movement just described created quite an excitement among several classe of people in the city, and considerable of people in the city, and considerable feeling was manifested in the matter. The saloonists thought their rights were to be abridged by fanatics; the cigar men were excited by the same reason, and those patronizing the street cars were alarmed least they should have to walk to church, or to visit their friends en Sunday, and threats were made that should the movement be prosecuted to the extent of the reports in circulation in regard to the intentions of the "Law and Order" men, Wheeling would be the most Puritanic city on the continent, but as the matter became understood all feeling in the affair subsided, and nothing more was heard of the street of the continent.

Yesterday alternoon as an INTELLI ORNCER skirmisher was "plodding hi weary way" across Twelfth street at Chap line ho was accosted by a lawyer with the remark, "Have you heard the news? Of course we hadn't, and he continued "Warrants are out for your hosses and a Warrants are out for your bosses and a "Well, this is a bonanza sure enough, was our mental commentary, and inquir ing before what magistrate the charges had been brought, we learned that 'Squire Philips had the contract for keeping up the purity and sanctity of the Sabbath. We sought that worthy at his office, but found he was out. However, we soon discovered him in an adjoining law office, and asked him about the matter 'Squire, what do you know about the

"I know nothing at all about the matter, all I do know is that complaint was made of a violation of the statute, and as I had no discretion in the matter I issued."

"Who is the complainant?"

"Wh. I. Sadler; he and John Grubb came in here together and Sadler mode the informations."

"What do you think of the cases, are they good ones?"

"I do, under the statute. In 1877 I sent several cases before the Grand Jury in which cigar and candy men were the offenders, but that body refused to indict. If they had we would have had the deadwood on them sure. Here is the section, sald he, refarring to "Kelley's Revised Statutes," or to section 16, chapter 149 of the criminal code and read as follows:

lows:

''[f a person on the Sabbath day be found "If a person on the Sabbath day be found laboring at any task or calling, or employhis minor children, apprentices or servants in lahor or other business, except household or other works of necessity or charity, he shall be fined not less than $5 for each offense, and every day such minor child or servant is so employed shall constitute a separate offense."

don't you?"

We declined to commit ourselves on the point, and the Squire continued: "My own opinion is that this will result in the wiping out of this section, as the same was done in Ohio recently, and a new one prescribing certain offenses substituted. Why, Sadler even wanted to swear out a warrant for the street cars, but that question has already been décided, and I refused to issue for them."

Just then A. J. Clarke, Esq., a director of the Wheeling and Belmont Bridge Company, came in, and overhearing the latter part of the conversation said: "There is a yery serious question as to government jurisdiction in the matter 'Squire. There is no question of your right to issue, but have you a right to try? I think you must send to the County Court for indictment."

Philips claimed that he had "the same right to try as in other misdemeanors, or the came right to fire SC of Miller and I

He also stated that the trial weuld take place at 2 r. M., to-day, at which time he had no doubt the facts in the case would be brought out.

We next hunted up W. H. Sadler, the complainant in the cases, and proceeded to interview him. Mr. Sadler was standon the corner of Twellth and Market streets, "looking for a man," he said, and from his restleess, uneasy manner we concluded he was.

"Mr. Sadler," said we, "what was your object in bringing these suits this afternoon?"

"But, Mr. Sadler, what instigated the movement of this afternoon? At whose instance was it done?"

I would scratch until the blood would run down my limb.

I have had several physicians. Some said they could erre me, but others said not.

I will say that before I used the CUTIJURA REMEDIES I was in a learnil state, and had given up all hope of ever having any rules.

Hough I would try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, about which I had read so much.

They have performed a wonderful cure for me, and of my own free will and accord I recommend them. was tree will and accord 1 recommend them.
